Greg Beaver
President

The ALL-American Society of Karate

Greg Beaver conceived the All-American Society of Karate in 1983. The A.S.K. is an association designed to teach American Karate in a positive ever-changing system. New ideas and fresh approaches to the art, sport, and self-defense aspects of karate are constantly being added to the system. In addition, its objectives are to run fair and unbiased tournaments, to organize karate camps, and to expand the students' knowledge with various seminars as well as to enable the student to positively accept and meet whatever challenges they may encounter during their training. Its goal is not necessarily to be the largest, but to be the best.

All-American Karate Seniors

(Ages 13-60)

The style of karate you will study is called "American Karate." Requirements for the different belt levels are listed in this All-American Society of Karate manual.

Basic Karate Rules and Procedures

Instructors are to be called: "Mr., Miss, Sir, or Ma'am." All instructors are to be addressed in this manner.

Before going into class, see your instructor and give him your class number.

Your karate uniform should always be kept clean and pressed. Only white uniforms are to be worn.

Never wear your uniform to go shopping, play sports, etc.

No patches or markings, except Instructor-approved, on your uniform or belt.

Do not wear jewelry to class or chew gum in class.

No talking or horseplay in class or before class starts.

Always practice with safety and respect toward your instructors and classmates.

Uniform

1. Your complete uniform (pants, top, and belt) is to be worn during class.
2. Before or after class, you may wear your uniform pants with a T-shirt.
3. In order to wear your uniform top, you must wear your belt and uniform pants.
4. Wear your uniform during karate activities only.

Karate Manual may be purchased form your instructor

BY THE NEXT TIME YOU COME TO CLASS YOU SHOULD HAVE YOUR LAST NAME ON THE BACK OF YOUR UNIFORM IN 2" BLACK BLOCK LETTERS - ONLY.

The All-American Society of Karate has 7 levels of black belt, which are depicted by the stars worn on the black belt patches, 1 star being the first level and 7 stars being the highest level.

Karate Class Assistant's Guide

All Adult students who wish to, may help in assisting the Brown and Black Belts conduct the junior karate classes. It must be stressed, that white through purple belts adults are there to assist, not to teach. There is a process in learning to teach karate, and helping out in the junior classes is part of that process. Job responsibilities consist of lining up kids, tying belts, holding striking mits, and helping with techniques to name a few. Your help is greatly appreciated and needed. See your instructor for further info thanks again.

An assistant's job is to assist the Brown and Black Belts, not to give information to students, parents, friends, or spectators about karate, karate class, themselves or instructors as so the wrong info might not be given out.

Basic Duties:

Arriving before class begins to find out what you are to do. This is especially important on the first night of a new session. Have your soft focus mitt with you at all times.

Helping the children put on their uniform, make sure the children are not wearing jewelry, show the children where to put their shoes, (heels up against the wall) make sure their uniform and belt are tied properly and telling them where to sit, will help greatly each night of class.

Children should sign in to the head instructor before they sit down.

Once Class Starts:

Make sure the kids are properly lined up on their tape. During the exercises, go up and down your line, and help the children do their exercises. Helpers should never be in front of the class. Assistants should stand on the side or back of class with eyes on the instructor watching instructions so they can help later. Make sure the children go to the restroom before class begins.

While the kids are in a fighting stance make sure their hands are not backwards. If the kids get into a good habit early of having a good proper fighting stance, everything else is easier.

While children do their techniques, walk up and down your line and help the children do their techniques, physically or verbally as quietly as possible.

Before or after class; do not let the children run. If their parents are not in class waiting, sit the kids down in the spectator area until their parents show up.

DO NOT take a child to the side and attempt to teach them if they seem befuddled by a technique. If a child seems unable to understand something, after helping with the technique a few times, alert one of the instructors quietly and go on to the next child.

DO NOT ATTEMPT TO DISCIPLINE A CHILD FOR ANY REASON. DISCIPLINING IS LEFT UP TO THE CLASS HEAD INSTRUCTOR.

DO NOT stand around with your arms folded. Nothing gives the impression of not being interested more than folded arms.

ALWAYS KEEP A GOOD ATTITUDE, BE ON TIME, BE RELIABLE, LOOK, ACT, AND BE PROFESSIONAL. Set a good example. If your uniform is dirty and unpresented, or you give a negative attitude, the kids will pick up on it.

Ask yourself this question, "If I were a parent in the stands watching my child, would I be satisfied with the caliber of instruction and instructors (and helpers) working with my child?"

Above all - Ask questions, (It's also a good idea to keep a diary to jot down notes and questions after class).

SHOULD YOU FORGET ALL THE ABOVE AND BECOME BRAIN DEAD...
REMEMBER THIS...

ALL QUESTIONS OTHER THAN WHERE THE RESTROOM IS AND HOW TO WEAR THE UNIFORM AND BELT SHOULD BE DIRECTED TO THE HEAD INSTRUCTOR.

All American Society of Karate Camp

Karate Camps

Karate camps are held twice a year, once in April and once in October. Only senior karate students may attend and participate in the activities of camp.

Camps are designed for 10% martial arts training and contests and 90% self defense exercises. The martial arts training consists of stick fighting and obstacle course contests. The self-defense exercises consist of training in gun, knife, club, and multiple attack defenses. There are day and night trails through the woods. The camp is designed to place students in as real life street situation as possible without getting hurt. One karate camp is required for students to earn their Blue Belts. Two camps are required for the rank of Brown, and four are required to obtain a Black Belt.

Fly Sheet

Funakoshi was the founder of modern day karate. Karate began in India in the year 500 A.D. Karate is a Japanese word that means empty hands. The most important thing in karate is conditioning. Karate is divided into art, sport, and self-defense. A kata is a formal exercise. The most important things in a kata are breathing and tension. The most important part of sparring is timing and distance. The goal of karate is to train your mind, body, and spirit. The belt ranking system is White, Yellow, Orange, Green, Blue, Purple, Brown, three degrees of Brown and Black. It takes the average person 3 - 5 years to obtain a Black Belt. Karate is kicking, punching, and striking; Judo is made up of different types of throwing techniques. They style of Karate that you study is American Karate. The father of U.S. Karate is Ed Parker. The most important thing in your training is a good attitude.

Instructors are to be called: "Mr., Miss, Sir, or Ma'am." All instructors are to be addressed in this manner. Your karate uniform should always be kept clean and pressed. Keep your belt tied at all times. No jewelry is to be worn in class. Do not chew gum during class. Your karate uniform must be white and is to be worn to karate class only. No patches or markings on your uniform or belt. (Instructor-approved only.) Your last name should be placed on the back of your uniform top in two-inch black, block letters.

Proper Respect to Instructors

Black belts are head instructors, and Brown Belts are assistant instructors. The proper way to address all instructors is: Mr. (Instructor's Last Name), Miss, Mrs. or Ms. (Instructor's Last Name), Sir, or Ma'am.

Instructors are there to assist the students. Students should feel free to ask questions or to call them at any time.

Vital Points

Correct form and balance must be used in karate with all parts of the body harmonizing to provide stability, this is necessary when the deliverance of a kick or a punch is felt. Learn to turn speed into power by using correct muscular control, rhythm, and timing. Use of the body as a powerful weapon is the most important part of the karate basics.

An old proverb says, "If the sword is true, the heart is true; and if the heart is true, the sword is true." The heart of the man who holds the sword is evident in the sword itself. In karate, the weapon that replaces the sword is the human body, and therefore, the karate students should take good care of their bodies. Karate students learn to care for their bodies and must understand how to make their bodies accurate and powerful karate weapons.

History of Karate

To fully understand karate, it is important to know of its historical development. The origin and development of today's karate will be taught in a perspective that will enable one to better understand the purpose of karate and how its techniques became the art of today.

Egypt

The oldest records of unarmed combat are the hieroglyphics from the Egyptian pyramids, which depicted Egypt's military men using fighting techniques that resembled modern boxing.

India

The origin of karate as an organized system of self-defense is undetermined. However, as a martial art, karate began in India thousands of years ago. Stories of warriors, princes, and gods who accomplished incredible battlefield feats with their bare hands are written in Indian folklore

China

An Indian Buddhist monk named Bodhidharma first introduced karate and its techniques to China. Bodhidharma found the monks of the Shaolin Temple in poor physical condition due to hours of kneeling and meditation. Bodhidharma taught the monks a system that is known today as Shaolin Temple Boxing.

Southeast Asia

Karate techniques branched from China to neighboring Southeast Asia.

Okinawa

Okinawa was one of the most influential countries contributing to the development of modern day karate.

The year 1609 is the most important, and accurate date in the historical growth of karate. Okinawa failed to give Japan materials for its attack against China in 1592. Therefore, in 1609, the militaristic Japanese Satsuma Clan, of Southern Kyushu, marched on Okinawa. All Okinawan weapons were confiscated, and a ban on the possession of all weapons, and metals was proclaimed. Bitterness arose from this severe action. As a result, fights often occurred between the islanders and foreigners. In these battles, the Okinawans were forced to use primitive weapons or bare hands and feet.

Japan

Funakoshi, the founder of modern karate, first introduced karate to Japan in 1917 through a series of exhibitions. The demand for karate was great and Funakoshi began organizing karate teams and teaching hundreds of people in Japan.

Until the 1950's Karate was practiced mostly in the Orient and Far East. It has now gained widespread attention throughout the entire world. In the United States, Karate's popularity has been enhanced through television, demonstrations, tournaments, books, and magazines.

Kung Fu

Kung Fu, or Chinese boxing, differs greatly from western styles of combat. As with everything in eastern cultures, the philosophy of Kung Fu has its roots in Zen Buddhism and Taoism.

Martial Arts Questions

Why is the Shaolin Temple important to the martial arts?

The Shaolin Temple was a monastery located in the Hunan Province of China about 1,400 years ago. It is important as it is considered the birthplace of the Chinese martial arts since Bodhidharma of India introduced a series of breathing exercises there. The temple later burned to the ground.

Is it necessary for a Black Belt to register his or her hands with the police?

The practice has never been a requirement in America.

What is Sport Point Karate?

Sport point karate enables all ages to participate in sparring with safety. The idea is to spar with the action of playing a game of tag and not to hit your opponent as hard as you can. Points are scored with good technique and light contact.

What is a Ninja?

A Ninja, literally means an invisible assassin, is specially trained military spy of ancient Japan.

What are the Martial Arts?

The Martial arts are military, warlike, or fighting arts, which include all systems of combat, especially those originating from Asian countries.

When and Where was the first Martial Arts Exposition held in the United States?

The first martial arts exposition was held in 1953 in New York's Madison Square Garden. Mas Oyama, the founder of the Kyokushinkai style of karate, performed for the public at the first martial arts expo.

Is it important to break boards and bricks in karate?

To some degree, breaking objects serves a purpose. Mainly it is used in demonstrations because of the sensational effect. Breaking a 1-inch pine board equates to breaking a human rib.

What is the best way to avoid a fight?

Running is an honorable option if at all possible. If you can't run, try to persuade the attacker not to follow through. When no other choice than fighting is available, hit first, and hit hard enough so that the first move will disable the assailant.

Which full-contact tournament is the most famous?

On September 14, 1974, Mike Anderson, in conjunction with Don and Judy Quine and the Professional Karate Association, held The Novel World Professional Karate Championships at the Los Angeles Sports Arena. Sport karate was revolutionized as this event kicked off the current emphasis on full-contact competition. The championships featured fourteen fighters from seven countries throughout the world. Representing the United States were the undisputed best fighters in the nation -- Howard Jackson, Jeff Smith, Bill Wallace, and Joe Lewis. Anderson awarded an unprecedented $20,000 in total prize money.

Who are considered sport karate's greatest fighters?

Sport Karate's greatest fighters to date are (voted by the top 50 fighters in the U.S.A.): Bill Wallace; Joe Lewis; Chuck Norris; Benny Urquidez; and Mike Stone.

Who is Joe Corley?

Joe Corley, of Atlanta, Georgia, was considered one of the top middleweights in point competition in the early 1970's. Corley has become one of the leading spokesmen for professional karate and is also responsible for the largest karate tournament -- The Battle of Atlanta -- that features over 2,000 fighters.

Who were the first 4 world full contact fighters?

Isasis Duanis	Light weight	Mexico
Bill Wallace	Middle weight	U.S.A.
Jeff Smith	Light Heavy weight	U.S.A.
Joe Lewis	Heavy weight	U.S.A.

Sparring

Sparring is the sport aspect of karate. Sparring is divided into different groups; point no contact (or focus), point contact, continuous sparring, and full contact. The sparring we do is point contact. It is a game of tag. The objective is to tag your opponent with light to moderate contact to the target areas.

Points to remember

Point contact sparring is a game of tag. The object is to score points not to hurt the person. Remember you and your opponent have to get up, and go to work or school the next day.

In the sport of karate sparring, most of us have similar athletic abilities. the difference is mental preparation. That is where everything starts: through confidence, and concentration.

The keys to successful sparring competition are: good condition, mental preparation, and timing and distance and planning each technique thrown. Knowing how is not as important as knowing when. Also spar, spar, and spar, -- as many different people as possible. Include people of different size, style, sex and rank as your sparring practice partners.

Someone capable of using several different techniques to score points is usually a better fighter than someone who only uses a few techniques.

Sparring Ring Officiating Rules and Regulations

General

1. Rings officials may not officiate a relative or spouse or when the competitor is someone with whom a conflict of interest may exist.

Disqualification of the competitor is mandatory in a sparring match that involves an official that is a relative or spouse.

2. Officials may vote only on what they actually see.

3. Any problems with spectators or unusual problems with competitors should be referred to the Tournament Director.

4. Mouthpieces, and cups (male competitors) are mandatory in all junior sparring divisions.

5. Full-face shield headgear, and hand gear are required in all junior sparring divisions.

6. Full-face headgear, hand gear, and footgear are required in all Senior-sparing divisions. All footgear must be taped in place with athletic tape when the toes are exposed.

7. Coaching is not allowed by any person inside the sparring ring areas. This includes scorekeepers, ring helpers, and officials. Competitors lined up around the ring waiting to compete may coach and encourage fighters in the ring.

Sparring Rules

1. The size of the sparring ring in a senior (adult) match is a minimum of a 15 X 15 foot square and a maximum of a 20 X 20 foot square.

The size of the sparring ring in a junior (child) match is a minimum of a 15 X 15 foot square and a maximum of a 20 X 20 foot square.

(These vary according to gym size and number of rings. The standard for karate is 20 X 20)

Starting lines for the competitors are 4 feet apart.

2. The end of a sparring match is determined as follows:

A. The first fighter to score 3 points wins the match

B. If a competitor is disqualified, the other fighter wins.

3. A point is scored when a controlled punch, strike, or kick contacts a legal target area.

4. Both ring referees have equal votes to verify a point or foul.

5. Legal Target areas for juniors are:

Side of the Head, Back of the Head, Face, Back of the Neck, Chest, Abdomen, Ribs, and Kidneys.

Contact is light in all-junior divisions. There is face contact in all divisions with a face shield.

Excessive contact to the face will result offending fighter being disqualified. Contact to the groin is considered a foul and is not allowed in any junior match. Light contact to the groin will result in a point awarded to the other fighter. Excessive contact to the groin, or any area of the body, whether in a legal point area or not will result in the offending competitor being disqualified from the match.

6. Legal target areas for senior sparring are:

Top of the Head, Side of the Head, Back of the Head, Face, Back of the Neck, Chest, Abdomen, Ribs, Kidneys and Groin.

There is face contact in all divisions with a face shield. Excessive contact to the face will result offending fighter being disqualified.

Contact is light to moderate in all senior divisions. Excessive contact whether to a legal target area or not will result in the offending fighter being disqualified.

7. All competition ceases when a ring official yells "BREAK". Fighters should return immediately to their starting positions.

8. Competitors are disqualified for any actions constituting obvious Unsportsman like conduct such as "intentional hitting" or "shoving" after the break command has been issued.

9. Intentional holding or catching an opponent's foot is illegal.

10. Sweeps, takedowns, and throws are not allowed and disqualification will result. No warning is required.

11. The use of threatening or abusive language will result in an immediate disqualification.
12. If a competitor does not stop fighting after the "Break" command has been issued, the result will be disqualification.
13. Disrespectful attitudes towards any official will result in immediate disqualification.

Referees

1. There are two referees in every sparring match, the head referee, (or head ring referee), and the judging referee. The head referee is in complete charge of the ring and the match. They promote the safety of the competitors, enforce rules, and ensure fair play. To this end they start and stop the match, vote on points, fouls, disqualifications, and call out of bounds. Only the head referee is allowed to actually award points and issue fouls and warnings to the competitors.
2. The head referee is the only one who can officially stop the match by calling for a "time out". (A competitor calls time out running out of bounds and making a "T" with their hands). The referee will then yell break, and call time out to the timekeeper.
3. The head referee begins a match by calling competitors into position with "Fighting Stance", followed by "Ready -- Go". The official match time then begins.
4. The head referee should announce in a loud clear voice all official decisions, and shall indicate with voice and gestures, the competitor affected by any decisions made by the head referee.
5. Only the head referee may call an "Out of Bounds". Opponents may be awarded 1 point when a competitor runs out of bounds three times during a match. Competitors must be warned the first and second time for running out of bounds.

Judging Referee

1. The judging referee (or ring judge) has basically two responsibilities: to call points and to call fouls.
2. The judging referee and head referee must stay on their side of the ring. They can follow the ring action by moving from side to side with the competitors.
3. When a point or foul has been committed, the judging referee should yell "BREAK" in a loud clear voice. When the head referee calls "VOTE" the judging referee votes for a fighter to receive a point by quickly extending the arm out head high towards that particular competitor. To vote for a foul, the above position is attained except when the head referee says "VOTE", the extended arm is pointed down towards the floor and in the direction of that particular competitor. The vote for a disqualification is the same as a foul, except that the referee says "DISQUALIFICATION" in a loud, clear voice while pointing to the floor in the direction of that particular competitor.
4. The judging referee should hold their voting position until the head referee has acknowledged their call.
5. If the judging referee feels a mistake has been made by the head referee, a time out is called and a "REVOTE" asked to be taken. To call "TIME", the judging referee, first calls "BREAK", and then calls "TIME" to the head referee, who will then call "TIME OUT" to the ring timekeeper.

Katas

H-Form # 1, 2, 3, and 4/To-San/ Hein 4/ Hwa Rang/ Tekkie 1

A kata is the uniting of several offensive and defensive moves into a dance-like form. A kata means formal exercise. The most important things in kata are breathing and tension. When performed properly, a kata represents the beauty and self-discipline of the art and its practitioner.

H-Form #2 -- The pattern is the same as H-Form #1 except that each time a down block is executed, it is followed by a high riser block with the same arm.

H-Form #3 -- The pattern is the same as H-Form #2 except that each time a high riser block is executed, it is followed by a front kick with the back leg.

H-Form #4 -- The pattern is the same as H-Form #1 except that instead of a down block forward stance you do a back stance - back fist block, then lunge punch in a forward stance.

To live kata is to win kata.

Katas are the forms in karate, which are described as the dancing steps of fighting. They are a must in karate training. To win in kata competition, you must first know the form. You cannot begin to think of winning until you know the physical part of your kata perfectly. In a kata, you are fighting with imaginary opponents, and you must perform as if you are fighting for your life. You must understand each movement, maintain the proper tempo, and execute each technique correctly. Failure to do this will result in a minimal score.

A clean and neatly ironed uniform is important for your kata competition. In addition, a well-starched uniform will have a snapping sound when you execute power techniques. This will bring more attention to your performance.

When called on to do your kata, step sharply to the starting line, and bow to the judges. Then, in a loud clear voice, give your name, style¹, and the name of your kata. You must make the judge think you are living the form. The look on your face must tell that you are in a fight from the very beginning. Eye contact is very important. Always look your imaginary opponent in the eye. When you come to the point of a yell, do so as loudly and as sharply as you can. When you have finished your kata. Upon completion of your form, remain standing in a formal position with your eyes forward. Wait until the judge dismisses you.

It is important to remember that a kata is a simulated fight between you and a number of imaginary opponents. You must go all out to defeat those imaginary foes.

Self Defense

The more aware an individual is of the factors associated with personal danger, the more likely he is to take appropriate precautions. The key is anticipation and prevention. One must be aware of their surroundings. Fear is the greatest enemy. To overcome it, one must practice daily to make responses an automatic reflex. With practice, an individual will be able to react instantly with effective responses. The best self-defense weapon weighs 8 pounds, your brain, use it.

Self-defense combines elements of the martial arts, common sense and "fighting dirty." The only time methods of self-defense should be utilized is when one's life and health or the life and health of loved ones are seriously endangered. However, the best way to defend one's self is to use common sense to avoid potentially dangerous situations.

Common Rules to Remember are:

1. There are no rules when saving your life or someone else's.
2. You have to be excited about living.
3. Develop self-confidence. Practice so that you will know what to do.
4. Be willing to act, if someone has to be hurt, let it be the attacker.
5. Do not panic. If you cannot control yourself, you cannot control the situation.
6. Keep it simple. Utilize those techniques you can use easily and quickly. Avoid "Flashy" Techniques.
7. Do not hesitate. Once you are forced to defend yourself, use everything available to you. If you start a defense, finish it. Do not expect to fight gently as an attacker is no gentleman.

Natural Weapons:

The body contains several natural weapons. However, your brain is the most important natural weapon as it controls your actions.

The four most vulnerable parts of the body are:

1. The Eyes
2. The Groin
3. The Knees
4. The Throat

Use of weapons:

Keys, purses, books, etc. are good weapons to use for self-defense. However, the problem with self-defense techniques utilizing weapons is that it provides a false sense of security. How capable are you of defending yourself if your defense method calls for gouging the attacker's eyes with your car keys, and your keys are at the bottom of your purse and not in your hand? By being conditioned to use such items as weapons, your chances of defending yourself are greatly reduced if your attacker takes them away or you cannot get to them in time. Why use these unnatural weapons when you can use the best weapons available to you -- YOUR BODY -- Hands, Feet, Elbows, Knees, and Teeth.

Yellow Belt Self Defense

Five Wrist Grabs

Defender -- Step to side with left foot shooting right hand underneath left hand, turning your body at a 90 degree angle (breaks loose right wrist), pivot back, ridge hand strike with right hand to attackers right wrist, grab attackers right wrist with right hand, palm heel strike to elbow with left hand, break elbow. Bend elbow up, take step across attacker with left foot forcing attacker to the ground. (This defense needs to be done sliding to the right and defending also.)

Points of interest -- When stepping out, step out into a forward stance. Don't ever over extend stretch when stepping out. Rotate body slightly to the inside before stepping out. Lock out arm and don't bend elbow when stepping out. Keep attacking wrist hand in a tense knife hand position when attacking.

Optional Defense.-- Twist wrist against attacker's thumb, breaking away from thumb, turn and run. Palm heel strike to the nose, quick kick to the knee.

Orange Belt Self Defense

Lapel Grabs

Points of Interest -- Slide to the side to avoid the grab, the block is secondary.

Block needs to be done before lapel is actually grabbed.

After block, grab wrist quickly -- block, grab.

On inside blocks, when striking attackers elbow - do not bend your arm.

Green Belt Self Defense

Five Wrist Grabs - Aikido defense

Attacker -- Right Cross Wrist Grab

Defender -- Pin attackers fingers with left hand, swing right arm up clockwise, twist wrist inside attackers hand, step with right foot, grab attackers wrist and twist, roll arm out straight while bending attackers elbow and wrist both at 90 degree angles (attackers palm should be facing up), grab wrist with right hand and roll hand down, forcing attacker to the ground.

Attacker -- Right Straight Wrist Grab

Attacker -- Left Straight Wrist Grab

Defender -- Swing right hand up in a clockwise motion with palm facing you, pivot to right, left thumb to back of attackers hand with palm up, fingers peel attackers thumb off (all palms up), turn right hand over placing your right fingers on your thumb, your palm on back of attackers hand, step back with your right foot twisting wrist in a clockwise position, taking attacker to ground.

Attacker -- Double Wrist Grab

Defender -- Pull both hands out, while attacker pushes in, from this position you can chose a right straight or a left straight defense to follow up with.

Points of Interest -- Aikido needs to be done fast, before attacker realizes what is happening.

On cross wrist grab, attackers elbow and wrist need to be bent at 90 degree angle and wrist at 90 degree angle, palm facing up.

Blue Belt Self Defense

Lapel Grabs - Aikido Defense

Attacker -- Right Hand Lapel Grab

Attacker -- Double Lapel Grab

Defender -- Either defense from above can be used depending on your right or left hand preference - or - left hand swings around on top and grabs back of hair (or ear, if no hair), right hand swings around on top and grabs chin, quickly twist neck counter clockwise while stepping back with left foot and taking attacker to the ground, right knee follows up into rib cage.

Points of Interest -- On lapel grabs, attacker's elbow and wrist have to be at 90-degree angles.

Aikido needs to be done fast, before attacker realizes it. Keep body facing the front while forcing attacker to the ground.

Purple Belt Self Defense

Five rear shoulder grabs

Attacker -- Right Straight shoulder Grab

Attacker -- Rear Choke

Points of Interest -- On cross shoulder grabs the trapping of the shoulder and block of the punch need to be done at the same time. When raking across the face, attempt to go for the eyes. When stepping back at a 45-degree angle, you need to step beside your attacker's feet - on the outside. Stay in close to your attacker while defending for better control of your attacker.
